She said it wasn't right;

Her hidden meaning quite.
"I beg your pardon, then," said he,
"If it was out of place."
"It surely was," the maid replied,

GOOD ROADS

Mason County to Have the Best That Money Will Build

The Fiscal Court Yesterday Heartily Endorsed Judge Rice's Plan For a $200,000 Bond Issue

The good roads movement in this State yesterday received the most substantial boost that has been given it by any county within its borders.

For years County Judge Rice has been figuring on two propositions—how to keep the four main turnpikes of Mason county in good condition and at the same time not increase the burden of taxes upon the people.

These two problems have caused the genial judge many a restless night, for all who know Judge Rice will say that he has had only the interests of the people at heart in running affairs in Mason county.

After the Legislature passed the good roads law Judge Rice then began figuring anew on the road proposition in this county, and he came to the conclusion that the only way out of a bad fix was to get out, and as a money saver and a money maker at the same time "he has the goods."

His idea is to have this county vote a bond issue of $200,000, the bonds to run from five to twenty-five years, at 4 per cent. interest; and yesterday afternoon the Fiscal Court met in extraordinary session to consider Judge Rice's plans, and with every Magistrate present, the court had the necessary orders drawn up for the bond issue as Judge Rice had planned, there not being a dissenting voice, and after a full and free discussion of the matter the Court adjourned until Thursday, when it will again meet and ratify these orders.

WHEAT NEAR $1.25

May Jumps Nearly Five Cents Above Saturday's Price.

Paris, August 31.—All night long troops from the south and west of France have been arriving at the capital and passing by rail around the city to the locations in the encircling fortifications to which they have been assigned. There is great activity on the part of the municipal military administration in completing the details of the plans for the defense of Paris. Thousands of persons are preparing to leave the capital. It is felt here that the fewer the number of non combatants in the city the better. Tickets for trains leaving Paris today to the west and south were all sold out last night.

Washington, August 31.—The German

THE DEATH OF THE POPE.

"In ancient times," said Pope Pius X, "raising himself from the coils of approaching death, 'the Pope might have stopped the slaughter by a word. Now he is powerless.'

So is every other lesser pontiff of religion. In the Twentieth Century Christianity and civilization are laid aside as easily as a garment is flung aside in preparation for a fight. Women and children are trampled under the feet of ruthless soldiers, private property is destroyed wholesale. Whole populations are driven from cities that were scenes of peace and hope and thirst a few weeks ago. All of the ghastly injustice of war is inflicted upon the defenseless in hideous struggle for more power.

It is a soddening spectacle. Religion and civilization seem paralyzed. With assumed piety one emperor prays to God before going to the slaughter, and he is no worse than the rest. Men march closely related by ties of blood at each other's throats like blood-thirsty wolves.

Despite religion, despite education, despite the enlightening influence of steam transportation, despite everything we have thought was making the present time better than any other "heir to all ages" Europe is thumbing back into barbarism and America is likely if she escapes being dragged in.

HAY FEVER SEASON IS NOW OPEN

New York.—Throughout the length and breadth of the land, the official hay fever season opened Sunday to the accompaniment of approximately 653,427 sneezes. (That's the number of hay fever victims said to suffer annual in the United States.)

There may have been numerous hay fever sneezes heard previous to today but these were merely desultory at best. They were, so to speak, the advance guard of the forces which opened with the heavy artillery of sneeze Sunday.

By some strange fate or law of nature, which as yet is not explained, the victims of this obnoxious malady sometimes after the date, according to many victims, they are attacked. It is about that time that the pollen from dandelions and other growths begin to float through the air, and it is the presence of these all but invisible tiny particles in the air that causes the hay fever. Only after the first frost do the majority of sufferers get relief from constant sneezing and other uncomfortable effects of hay fever.

SOME OF THE HORRORS OF MODERN WARFARE

The present war in Europe seems destined to develop horrors which the ancients, with all their cruelty, never dreamt of.

One of the foreign correspondents describes the results of the dropping of explosives from a German airship while flying over the city of Antwerp, Belgium.

"I have just lived through the most tragic night of the war.

"For the first time in history a great civilized community has been bombarded from the sky.

"I was awoken at 1 o'clock this morning by a frightful commotion. A Zeppelin had been sighted about 100 feet above the town. I at once went out into the streets and for eleven hours—from one hour after midnight until noon—I have scarcely left the scene of the catastrophe. I have explored every one of the devastated streets. So far I have found ten bodies in ten different places.

"It is impossible as yet to get accurate statistics. In my calculation there are about 900 houses nearly destroyed. The number of victims is not known.

"In a single house I found four dead. One room was a chamber of horrors, the remains of the mangled bodies being scattered in every direction. In the house opposite a husband and wife, whose only son had just died in battle, were killed—a whole family wiped out. The Place du Poil, about where the tragedy happened, surpassed in horror anything I ever saw.

"When the Zeppelin appeared it drew searchlights over the city. Almost immediately there followed an explosion, which was repeated thrice. Then the Scheldt forts and guards started a heavy fire, but the bombing continued. The townspeople were alarmed and rushed into the streets in their night clothes. Most of them thought that the siege had begun.

"The dropping of bombs lasted about twenty minutes. Four persons were killed at one spot. The barracks of the Fifth regiments were damaged, as well as the other barracks and the military hospital.

"It is said that the purpose of the Zeppelin was to destroy the royal family by dropping bombs on the palace.

"The first doctor to arrive on the scene was Major Louis Livingston Seaman, of the American Red Cross.

"Dr. Seaman, who today has been attending the wounded, says that in all his eight campaigns, of which one was against the Boxers in China, he has never seen an act of war so ruthless and so horrible as the sight of three young girls mutilated by the bombs and of a dead young mother—all attacked in their beds at night."

WANTED Rags!

Millions of dollars' worth of Rags collected annually

The General says:

My output of Certain-teed Roofing has grown to such enormous proportions that I am having difficulty in getting enough rags of good grade to supply this demand.

I also need a lot of rags of lower grade for making my standard quality roofing, and also a still lower grade for making my Composition quality roofing.

I will pay the best market price for roofing rags anywhere in any quantity. If they can be shipped in carload quantities and in assorted grades, we can have them shipped direct to any of our big mills, but if in smaller quantities or unsorted, we will arrange with one of our packers or assorters near you, to buy your rags and prepare them for our use in the different grades.
